President Eisenhower will press a button at his Gettysburg farm on December 18 to turn on the lights on Christmas trees in Washington symbolizing the "Pageant of Peace" throughout the free world.

The President will also make a brief talk over the radio at the same time. It is not known whether the talk will be televised. Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, told his news conference Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock that all the details had not been worked out as yet.

Snyder released an announcement from the State Department revealing a number of promotions or advancements in the consular service.

The official schedule for the President today was very light. No official callers were scheduled and the Eisenhower family planned to watch the Army-Navy game on television. Beyond that, not much weekend activity is in sight at the Gettysburg White House.

Because of his restricted travel schedule, caused by his heart ailment, the President will be in Philadelphia for the service classic and no one was designated to represent him.

He'll be stepping up his pace of activity starting Monday when he confers here with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Eisenhower is expected soon after Dec. 18 to return his headquarters to Washington, while continuing weekend visits to the farm.

The Eisenhowers expect to spend Christmas in the White House.

LOCAL IRANIAN TO PARTICIPATE IN '56 OLYMPICS

Farouk Sarmad, freshman at Gettysburg College from Tehran, Iran, has received a bid from the Iranian National Sports Committee to compete for Iran in the 1956 Olympic Games to be held in Australia. Sarmad will participate as a member of the national Iranian team in track, basketball, volleyball, and soccer. He likes to ski and was champion in ping-pong while in high school.

Before coming to the United States, Sarmad was asked by Bruce Laingen, second secretary of the U. S. Embassy in Iran, if he liked to play football. Sarmad replied, "I know many better ways of killing each other than playing football."

When asked why he came to the U. S. to study and more particularly to Gettysburg College he replied, "There are not enough universities for all the students in Iran. Many students must study abroad. And as for Gettysburg College, it is the nearest school to Wilson College, Chambersburg, where my sister is studying physics." Sarmad is a pre-med student and both he and his sister have tentative plans to attend Boston University for graduate work.

Never Eats Pork

"When I arrived in New York September 7 and in Gettysburg September 12, I found many things quite new but not as many as you might think," Sarmad said. "We dress much the same in Iran but instead of having dinner at 6 p.m. we have it at 10 p.m. in the summer and at 9 p.m. in the winter. We never have meat for breakfast and most of us never

Rescuers Fight Snow, Sea, Winds To Reach 30 Seamen

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Rescuers today battled snow, rough seas, and high winds in an effort to rescue 30 seamen aboard a wrecked freighter off the rocky northern coast of Cape Breton Island.

The 2,848-ton Liberian freighter Kismet II, which went aground Friday off the tip of the island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, was being pounded against jagged rocks by seas whipped by winds of 30 to 45 miles an hour. The stricken ship is about 220 miles northeast of Halifax.

An amateur radio operator reported a convoy led by a snowplow and carrying a ton of breeches buoy equipment reached the scene on Cape St. Lawrence early today. The convoy pushed over 100 miles of snow-clogged highways from Sydney.

Two lifelines were strung from a 1,000-foot cliff, only 25 feet away, to the stricken vessel. The breeches buoy was necessary to make the lines effective.

Throughout the night rescuers kept watch atop the cliff, their searchlights cutting through a blinding snowstorm. At the foot of the cliff the gulf was churned by the winds into a boiling surf.

Driving with children in the car necessitates extra precautions on the part of the driver, warns an official of the motor club, stressing the many dangers which may be avoided by following a few safety rules.

Emphasizing the added responsibilities incurred because of the presence of children in the car, Edward P. Curran, safety director of the club, outlines the following rules:

1. Never leave children unsupervised in a car, even though it's "just for a minute." Never leave the motor running while parked. Take your keys with you.
2. Never start a car until you know that no children are in the way, front or back.
3. Don't allow children to stand up while riding. Teach them to sit still.
4. Don't allow babies to be carried on someone's lap in the front seat, or in a baby carrier.
5. Make sure your car doors are locked so children can't open them accidentally. Teach children to leave door handles alone.
6. If children start fighting, pull of the road and stop before trying to settle things.
7. Don't permit children to stick heads or arm from car windows.
8. Teach children not to touch steering wheel, gear-shift lever, rear-view mirror, or otherwise distract the driver while car is in motion.

Jury Finds No Evidence Of Crime In Woodward's Death

By RAY KOHN

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—A grand jury has found no evidence of crime in the death of socialite-sportsman William Woodward, killed by a shotgun fired by his wife, Ann.

Tottering from the Nassau County Court House last night, after the panel absolved her of blame in the shooting, the grief-worn, black-clad, 39-year-old widow had to be assisted to a car.

Her face and demeanor a far cry from the svelte, blonde woman who moved in society's select circles, Mrs. Woodward could only mumble incoherently to waiting newsmen as she emerged from her ordeal of telling the jury what happened in the early hours of Sunday, Oct. 30.

Her attorney, Murray Gurfeln, said: "She now feels she can be left alone with her children."

Hear 31 Witnesses
He was referring to the two Woodward sons—William III, 11 years old, and James, 7—who slept through the shooting in their home at Oyster Bay, Long Island.

Mrs. Woodward was one of 31 witnesses heard yesterday by the jury, which sat about 10 hours, then deliberated 45 minutes before voting "no indictment" in the killing.

RAILROADERS FEAR TROUBLE ON RACE ISSUE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad men here said today the task of achieving racial desegregation in the South's interstate train service will present almost as many problems as the first rail crossing of the Continental Divide in 1899.

But as one executive put it: "The railroads always obey an ICC order."

He referred to yesterday's order from the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) directing an end effective Jan. 10 to racial segregation of interstate passengers on trains and buses, and in public waiting rooms and rest rooms.

A check with a half-dozen rail executives disclosed no firm plan of action yet to carry the order into effect. They agreed, many problems were involved. They asked not to be quoted by name.

No Appeal Expected

None of the railroad representatives here suggested taking an appeal from the ICC order to the Supreme Court, whose 1954 ruling on school segregation was cited by the ICC in support of its order.

One official commented: "It may be that the long-established practice of southern carriers in separating white and negro passengers may just go by the boards under the weight of operating difficulties."

He discussed the situation against a backdrop of statements from southern state officials, asserting their intention to retain local statutes requiring railroad companies to maintain separate or divided coaches, waiting rooms and rest rooms for whites and negroes.

Thirteen Limit Service

Thirteen states, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas, South Carolina and Virginia, have such laws.

And this, one railroad man said, is the heart of the difficulty. After Jan. 10, the railroads are confronted with the prospect of maintaining one set of "mixed" accommodations for interstate travelers to satisfy the ICC, and another set of separate facilities for intrastate patrons, to satisfy local authorities.

83 FOREIGNERS ARE RESTRICTED TO U. S. TRAVEL

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U. S. government restricts the movements of 83 foreign delegates, observers and correspondents at the U. N.

Three foreigners may not, without special permission, go farther away than 97th St., 40 blocks to the north. Two are British observers for humanitarian organizations and the third a Middle Eastern correspondent. The restrictions are "conditions of admission" set by the State Department on the advice of the attorney general.

Two other foreigners, official observers, must have permission to go outside the limits of New York. That is because they were in such a hurry to get here for the General Assembly they did not wait for security checks, which sometimes take five weeks.

25-Mile Limit

Seventy-eight Soviet citizens — 73 delegates and five press correspondents — may not travel more than 25 miles from this headquarters unless they give 48 hours' notice. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is in this group.

When the Russians do travel, 27 per cent of the United States is forbidden ground that they may enter only by special permission. This includes all neighboring Connecticut and New York's Borough of Brooklyn.

The State Department has maintained the 25-mile limit, here and in Washington, since 1952 and the forbidden-area rule since last January in an effort to pressure the Soviet government into lifting similar restrictions from Americans in Moscow.

HUNTING MATE IS FOUND DEAD

VIRGINIA, Minn. (AP) — A Minneapolis union official told officers today a woman hunting companion, found shot to death in their motel room, threatened to take her own life if he left without her.

Thomas Pierce, 49, whose deer hunting trip with the wife of a St. Paul architect ended with a rifle shooting in an Orr, Minn., motel, was held without charge awaiting a coroner's inquest.

The body of Mrs. Myrl Crommett, 38, a bullet through her heart, was found at the Orr motel yesterday.

R. S. McDermott, St. Louis County deputy sheriff, said Pierce told of having several arguments with Mrs. Crommett after they arrived at Orr Tuesday, and that she threatened to take her own life if Pierce left her.

Pierce said he wanted to return to Minneapolis yesterday morning but that Mrs. Crommett insisted on staying longer. Mrs. Crommett was told she could take a bus home if she wanted to remain, Pierce said.

Pierce told McDermott he left the motel yesterday morning to have breakfast at a nearby restaurant, leaving Mrs. Crommett in the room.

When he got back to the motel he said, Mrs. Crommett was lying dead on the floor.

"Now that I think it over," said Byrd to the welcoming committee, "Little America is the loneliest place on earth because there are no women."

Byrd said probably 35 bases will be established in Antarctica to correlate information on what may be the "world's greatest weather factory." Several nations are sending expeditions this year, he added.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was cold and wet in wide areas in the Eastern third of the country today and a new batch of frigid air moved into northern Montana.

Temperatures dropped into the 30s in the Gulf States this morning and they were near 50 in some cities along the Gulf Coast. Readings were generally in the 20s in the Midwest, the Ohio Valley, the northern half of the Appalachians and in New England.

Light snow fell during the night over most of the lower Great Lakes region. Rain fell in North Carolina and Virginia while there was light snow in parts of Maryland. The only other precipitation was in the Northwest which reported showers along the coast and snow flurries in other areas.

The blast of icy air from Canada into Montana sent temperatures tumbling 40 degrees at Cut Bank, which reported near zero weather after readings in the low 40s yesterday.

There was a warming trend in most of the plains. Northern North Dakota reported the biggest warming. It was 20 above this morning, 34 degrees higher than yesterday morning.

Temperatures were in the 40s in most of California.

PENNSYLVANIA TO MAIL DRIVER LICENSES SOON

The Commonwealth's Bureau of Motor Vehicles of Harrisburg, the nation's largest non-profit mail order firm, is gearing itself for its annual pre-Christmas sale of driver's licenses.

Exactly 4,599,000 applications will be mailed to Pennsylvania drivers this week. This compares with 4,434,968 mailed in 1954. The total cost for postage alone last year was $304,000, emphasizing the tremendous bulk of business done by the bureau, which operates the largest independent post office in the world.

Charles M. Dougherty, director of Motor Vehicles, again reminded operators who have changed address to notify the bureau immediately if they want to receive their applications without a long delay. All undeliverable applications are destroyed by the post office.

Eight Million Customers Although the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, in the Department of Revenue, deals only in a few specialized items one being driver's licenses, its customers number upwards of eight million. The Bureau also processes the distribution of license tag and titles.

The license applications, which cost one dollar postage-paid, will be mailed to persons not only in Pennsylvania but in all of the other 47 states in the Union, the District of Columbia, and 41 foreign countries.

Hundreds of service personnel, state department, embassy and legation employees, airline workers, and persons on special mission for the United States who want to retain their Pennsylvania driving privileges will receive their applications by mail. Applications will be sent to such countries as Alaska, Cyprus, Ethiopia, Australia, Egypt, Norway, Peru, Japan, and Mozambique.

Have Sixteen-Seven Employees The mailing and shipping section of the Bureau does a large part of the work in getting the applications ready for mailing. The 67 employees sort, file, tie and bundle the applications prior to mailing them to thousands of post offices in the state, nation, and world.

Following the return of the approximately 4,600,000 applications to the Bureau, they will then be processed for return mailing with only the operator's license sent back.

"FINDING THE KEY"

Have you ever heard the story of . . . the man who looked his heart . . . in such a way that nothing seemed . . . to enter or depart . . . this person whom I write of goes . . . about from day to day . . . like some disgruntled elf who thinks . . . that he should have his way . . . just why he's prone to be this way . . . I really do not know . . . the only thing he ever does . . . is cause a lot of woe . . . and so I set about to see . . . if I could pierce his shell . . . so every time he wanted to meet . . . I smiled and wished him well . . . at first he hardly noticed me . . . but then as time went by . . . I found that he was really not . . . a half bad sort of guy . . . for soon I was amazed to find . . . how kind he was to me . . . which goes to prove a heart will open . . . for a friendship key.

U. N. ASSEMBLY BATTling OVER BIG DEADLOCKS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—With 12 working days left before its scheduled adjournment, the U.N. Assembly pressed today to break stubborn deadlocks over a disputed Security Council seat and the membership bids of 18 nations.

The assembly must also push through debate within the next two weeks on the tough disarmament question and the colonial issues involving Morocco and West New Guinea if it hopes to hit its Dec. 10 windup target.

India and a number of other countries who did not take part in the debate before the 12-nation U.N. disarmament commission have indicated they will have plenty to say on the arms question when it reaches the 60-nation Political Committee.

Expect Some Arguments

Little friction is expected this year on either Morocco or West New Guinea, but the anticolonial powers undoubtedly will have arguments to present when those items come up.

One major deadlock was broken yesterday when France was wooed back into the Assembly after that body voted to drop the stormy Algerian question.

The French walked out two months ago when the Assembly put the Algerian question on its agenda.

Delegates hoped Arab approval of the maneuver which broke the French boycott would speed solution of the complex membership question.

Might Lose Veto

The Arabs spearheaded the original move to debate the Algerian question and it had been feared that if France stayed out, she might use her veto power in the Security Council, which she retained her seat, to bar Jordan and the Asian applicants.

U.N. circles were also heartened by reports that the United States had relaxed its opposition to Communist outer Mongolia's bid for membership.

Perhaps the toughest problem facing the current Assembly is the log jam between the U.S.-backed Philippines and Communist Yugoslavia in the contest for the Security Council seat now held by Turkey.

After a record 21 ballots in the Assembly, the two contestants are still far from the necessary two-thirds majority and neither has shown any sign of yielding.

SENATOR BLASTS M'CARTHY FOR INQUIRY ATTACK

WASHINGTON (AP)—An attack by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) on a Senate subcommittee's inquiry into government security programs has drawn a reply from Chairman Hennings (D-Mo.) that he "will not be intimidated."

Hennings' one-man hearings on alleged abridgement of constitutional rights in the security programs were described yesterday by McCarthy as "disgraceful and dangerous."

The inquiry poses "a grave threat" to national security, McCarthy said in a statement, and shows that the "national Democratic leadership is as soft as ever on the Communist issue."

Defends Hearings

Hennings quoted some of McCarthy's accusations at yesterday's hearing but did not mention the Wisconsin senator's name. After saying he would "not be intimidated," Hennings added:

"To anyone who has made any attempt to follow the course of these hearings with care, I think it is clear that they are not an attack on the security of the United States but rather an attempt to strengthen our security program by protecting innocent and loyal men and women and fully to safeguard the bill of rights and the constitution."

Investigation of the security programs is one phase of the subcommittee's general inquiry into the observance of constitutional rights.

"Our worship day is different too; it is Friday.

"We have hot and cold seasons in Iran and in some places it gets hotter or colder than in others. But the weather is not as changeable as it is here in Gettysburg. The weather can be cold in the morning, hot in the afternoon, and good in the evening.

No Dating System

"We have no dating system in Iran. It is very important here. In Iran the bridegroom does not get to see his bride until the marriage ceremony. And the groom pays the expenses.

"When I first came to the United States the concentration of people bothered me but now I feel at home."

When asked if he had seen President Eisenhower, Sarmad said, "I was standing at a window in the Lincoln Room when he arrived here on November 14. All the people were glad. On Monday I visited the President's farm. My sister met the President when she was a delegate to the New York Herald Tribune International Youth Forum last year. President Eisenhower did what was best when he stopped the Korean war. It had a good reaction in Iran and elsewhere.

"Point Four Program has a branch in our country. It helps farmers buy new machinery and teaches them how to use it. Before we had to plow with oxen. The new is easier and best.

Father Is Poet, Lawyer

"The people of Iran like our king, Mohammad Reza Shah, for he has done the best for our country. We like our king and our country and very few pay any attention to the Communists. My father is a member of parliament and a lawyer — best in Iran, I guess. He is one of the advisors to the king and is the national poet of Iran."

Sarmad is a social brother of the local Kappa Delta Rho fraternity and a participant in International Junior Red Cross.

when they returned from the party and retired to separate bedrooms on opposite sides of a 10-foot-wide hallway.

"Fired Blindly"

Awakened by the barking of the family dog, she said, she grabbed the shotgun, opened her bedroom door and fired blindly into the darkened hallway in the direction of a noise.

Her husband, unclad and unarmed, had been standing in his own doorway and was struck in the head by a shotgun blast.

Dr. Theodore J. Curphey, Nassau County medical examiner who was one of the witnesses before the jury, later told newsmen the immediate cause of Woodward's death was a single tiny shotgun pellet, only slightly larger than the head of a pin.

"Only one pellet was fatal, although three were found in the brain pan," said Curphey.

The doctor added Woodward probably stayed alive about 15 minutes, although unconscious, after he was shot.

Police, answering a screamed telephone call for help from Mrs. Woodward, found her holding the lifeless body of her husband in her arms.

The grand jury questioned a number of socialites at the party, given by Mrs. George F. Baker, but the Duchess of Windsor was not called as a witness.

U. N. SIDESTEPS WINE QUESTION

ROME (AP)—The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization has sidestepped the question of encouraging wine drinking.

The maneuver came yesterday when the FAO voted to recommend that its 71 member nations adopt policies to encourage trade in "grapes and grape products."

The original resolution before the organization read "grapes and wine" instead of "grapes and grape products." It was warmly supported by such winemaking countries as France, Spain, Italy, Belgium, Germany and Greece.

The grape products term was substituted after Nazir Ahmad of Pakistan asked:

"I wonder if it would be appropriate for the FAO to be promoting drunkenness in the world?"

A British delegate, referring to the matter as a social problem, said he didn't see how, as a representative of Britain's government, he could go on record favoring an increased consumption of wine.

Norway and Sweden also opposed the original resolution.

Charles C. Culp Heads St. James S. S. 15th Year: Charles C. Culp has been re-elected general superintendent of the St. James Lutheran Sunday school for the 15th consecutive year and 29 other officers of the school have been named to serve another year in their present positions. It was disclosed Sunday morning with the announcement of the results of the annual election conducted November 18.

Head Of Boys Town Returns To The Mount: Baltimore, Nov. 26 (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Edward J. Flanagan of Boys Town returned last week to the beginning of the trail that led him to national fame.

That beginning was Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, where for the first time in 40 years, Msgr. Flanagan was able to spend a full day last week.

The familiar surroundings of his alma mater set loose a flood of reminiscences as the mentor of Boys Town recalled vividly his first two days as a teen-ager student at the Mount, fresh from Roscommon county, Ireland.

He learned to swim that first day in 1904 — very quickly. A schoolmate had shoved him into the pool. "I learned to swim because I had to," Father Flanagan said.

To that first day at Mt. St. Mary's he attributed his ability to save his father's life from drowning later. His father, John Flanagan, was 75 years old when the incident occurred on a swimming trip.

To Rush Here To Stock Meat: However much satisfaction might have accompanied the lifting of rationing Saturday on meats and fats there was no great surge of buying in Gettysburg, most dealers reported today.

Meat retailers have had good supplies of almost all cuts, except pork, for the past several weeks. There was no unusual demand for meats however except in the case of steaks and some cuts which had required a high number of ration points.

"More Of Everything" In Prospect For First Peace-time Christmas Since 1940: This Christmas will be different. Thanksgiving found many men home from the wars. More will be home for Christmas. This, to thousands of families, will be cause and enough to spare for "a Merry Christmas."

But there will be other difference in a nation where peace reigns again on the birthday of the Prince of Peace after four Yuletides marred by death and destruction, greed and horror.

Some vestiges of rationing will remain. But most is gone and there is more of everything than ever before for Christmas.

Sperzel — Klinedinst: Miss Gary Grace Klinedinst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klinedinst, York Springs R. 2, and Cpl. Ralph D. A native of McSherrystown she was graduated from St. Joseph's Academy and received her professional training at St. Agnes Hospital School of Nursing, Philadelphia, then became one of the youngest members of her corps during World War I.

The Navy Nurse Corps was barely 10 years old when Miss Bunty entered it. In view of its nurses' new status and their greatly increased numbers, the Navy some time ago felt it essential to pro-

Today's Talk

MY BOOKS

One of my friends who came to my home one evening was shown my library. He looked all about the place — books everywhere, on the work desk, on tables, chairs, and wherever a book could be given a place. As yet they are not on the floor, but they climb all about the room in shelves that reach to the ceiling. My friend kept looking, then said: "Have you read all of these books?"

My answer was, of course, NO! But there is not a book among the big lot that I haven't dipped into, and every day I invite someone to share my companionship — or, rather, I should say that I invite it to be a companion to me for the time. Books are like human companions. With one obvious exception: You can invite a book companion at will, and many a one that you have not read for a long time breaks in on you to get a welcome.

Just recently I discovered a bright red-coated little book, by James Whitcomb Brougner Sr. We had a nice visit the day I brought it home, but I dipped into it again, and it was like meeting a new friend. It is called "Life and Laughter" — and is rightly named. A very inspiring book, full of extracts from sermons of this noted author, and one that can be read at odd moments. A fine tonic to take before bedtime! Its chapters are honey ones, covering the experiences of a long life.

Books are such intimate companions. They usually contain the best that has come out of the author's mind and heart. I have prized small books — the kind you can slip into your pocket when you take a trip. Some of my most loved books are small ones. There is something forbidding about a book big in size. I can't even resist purchasing one of these, however, when written by an author like Boswell's Johnson, or Tolstoy's great "War and Peace."

They are all my friends, anyway, the unknown and the famous.

Just Folks

EYES

My grandma's eyes were once as bright as mine, she says to me. But now she puts her glasses on or else she cannot see.

I think that eyes are funny things. Sometimes my dad will call And show me something in the yard I've never seen at all. And very often he'll walk by and never seem to see.

The places where the fairies live which are so plain to me.

I've found the goblins' footprints all around our pansy bed. But when I show them all to him he only shakes his head.

And I can see where elephants have tropped around our place. And where the hippopotamus has stopped to wash his face.

But when I point them out to other little girls like me. They say it isn't so at all. But I know what I see.

Perhaps our eyes are different; with so much 'round about.

We cannot all see everything, and so we pick things out. And what we like we look for most, and maybe that is why I find a lot of lovely sights which other folks walk by.

But daddy says he knows the tales I often tell are true.

For when his eyes were six years old he saw the same things, too.

EXPECT MARTIAL LAW FOR BRAZIL TO BE DECLARED

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A declaration of state of siege, approved by Congress, was expected to take effect today.

All that was needed to put Brazil under a modified form of martial law was publication of the declaration in the government's official bulletin.

The Senate voted final legislative approval last night 35-15. Earlier in the day the Chamber of Deputies had approved the measure, requested by Provisional President Nereu Ramos, 178-91.

Might Be Delayed

Ramos and his cabinet signed it today. Publication of the official bulletin could be delayed till tomorrow morning.

Prime object of the declaration is to prevent the Supreme Court from reinstating Joao Cafe Filho in the presidency. He took a leave of absence Nov. 8 after a slight heart attack.

Powerful army leaders headed by the war minister, Gen. Henrique Teixeira Lott, opposed Cafe's resumption of power. They suspect him of participating in an alleged plot to block the inauguration next Jan. 31 of President-elect Juscelino Kubitschek, political heir of the late President Getulio Vargas.

Extend Cafe's "Disability"

Congress extended Cafe's "disability" from office indefinitely. He appealed to the Supreme Court, which has not ruled in the case.

Cafe is now under virtual house arrest.

There were some indications party leaders in the violent political feud ranging around the presidential election were seeking peace. They were observed in whispering huddles during the congressional debates. They declined to speak for publication, but they indicated they were trying to compromise their dispute.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 40-year-old truckdriver burned to death early Friday as fire damaged the Hotel Milner in North Philadelphia. The victim was identified as Franklin Curran, a driver for the Cramer Trucking Co. of Ohio.

Firemen confined the fire to Curran's room. They found him half out of the window, where he apparently collapsed while trying to escape the blaze.

OPEN WOODWARD HEARINGS TODAY

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—A Nassau County grand jury today opened an investigation of the slaying of millionaire socialist William Woodward.

Opening witnesses were police officers from Oyster Bay Cove who were first on the scene Oct. 30 when blonde Mrs. Ann Woodward shot her husband to death.

The 39-year old Mrs. Woodward is expected before the grand jury later in the day to describe the shooting as a tragic accident, touched off by her abnormal fear of a prowler in the area of the Woodward estate.

First of the socialist witnesses to arrive was well-red-haired Mrs. David Gimbel, an attractive member of the department store family.

With the Woodwards, she had attended a gay party for the Duchess of Windsor in the hours that preceded the Woodward killing.

A neighbor of the Woodwards in the Oyster Bay area, Mrs. Gimbel arrived in the grand jury room hatless and wearing a ranch mink coat.

Claim Surrender Of Spy In Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet State Security Committee announced Friday a Russian allegedly trained as a spy in West Germany had surrendered under the amnesty act and was sentenced to five years in exile.

The government newspaper Izvestia identified the man as Adam Melodyevich Novikov, 30. It said he was taken to Germany by the Nazis to work in 1942, came under the influence of anti-Soviet propaganda and refused to return to the Soviet Union after the war.

Izvestia said he was sent to Morocco as a displaced person and was drawn into an anti-Soviet organization which turned him over to a foreign intelligence service in West Germany. After taking espionage training, the account continued, he was dropped by parachute into White Russia.

U.S.S.R. JAILS 12 UP TO 25 YEARS FOR GAME RIOT

MOSCOW (AP)—Stiff prison sentences have been given 12 persons for starting a riot at a football game in Armenia.

Veteran Western observers say the severity of the sentences, ranging up to 25 years, indicated political motivation in the rioting and smoldering discontent in the area.

The 12 were tried by the Armenian Supreme Court. They were charged with fomenting the riot Oct. 12 after a disputed decision by a referee at Yerevan, capital of the Armenian Soviet Republic.

Unusual Trial

Observers pointed out that in addition to the length of the sentences, it was extremely unusual for defendants in such cases to appear before the Supreme Court and for the case to be publicized.

The riot and court action were reported in the Yerevan newspaper Kommunist, which was received here.

The newspaper said "groups of hooligans and criminals using dissatisfaction of a part of the crowd at the result of the game started riots."

"Resistance To Authority"

It said attempts were made to lynch the referee, spectators and militiamen were stoned and the "riot was accompanied by violence and resistance to the representatives of authority."

Nine of the 12 persons sentenced "were from the criminal element of the population who had been in court before and released," the newspaper added.

Four persons were sentenced to 25 years in prison, one to 20 years, two to 15 years, three to 10 years, one to 2 years and one to 1 year.

Six persons were executed recently in Armenia's neighboring republic of Georgia for counter-revolutionary activities and 3,000 persons were expelled from the Georgian Republic Communist party.

USSR Stages Atom Test; Big Fallout

LONDON (AP)—The News Chronicle said Friday that British jets flew to 50,000 feet and gathered samples of the radioactive fallout from Russia's recent nuclear weapons test.

Official sources declined to discuss the report.

The newspaper said the Russian test was so powerful that Soviet authorities must have cleared an area in their Siberian testing grounds twice the size of England and Wales to conduct it.

The News Chronicle said the samples were collected Thursday and added:

"From first tests... atomic scientists at Harwell and Aldermaston believe that the explosion was no ordinary H-bomb, but the far more devastating hydrogen-uranium bomb."

According to the story the United States fired a similar bomb at Bikini in March 1954.

BONN, Germany (AP)—The German army will have more than 1,300 tanks, the Defense Ministry announced Friday. A spokesman said most of them would be the American M47 Patton heavy tank.

German army planners also are hoping to get some M48 Patton tanks, the latest type now in service with the U.S. Army. The M48 mounts a 90mm. gun, weighs 97,000 pounds and costs almost $110,000.

The United States has agreed to deliver a "considerable quantity" of arms to the new West German army.

The spokesman gave this timetable for the army buildup, which he said was subject to Parliament's approval of the necessary legislation in time.

Defense Force

1. Three skeleton infantry divisions to be formed by April 1 by incorporating the 18,000-man federal frontier force into the army.

2. These three motorized divisions to be brought to their full strength of 12,000 each by Oct. 1 by enrolling more volunteers.

3. The skeletons of six armored and three more infantry divisions to be formed by Oct. 1.

4. All 12 divisions to be brought to full strength and combat readiness by Jan. 1, 1959, by drafting men of 18 and 19.

The spokesman said the army would have a total strength of 370,000 men.

Pakistan Freighter Sinks In China Sea

HONG KONG (AP)—The 6,771-ton Pakistani freighter Fakira sank in the South China sea about 500 miles southwest of Manila early Friday. Rescue vessels took off her 52 crew members.

The Hong Kong-bound freighter sent out distress signals Wednesday night after springing a leak in a cargo hold. All ships in the area went to her aid.

The Fakira, owned by the East and West Steamship Co. of Karachi, was built by the George A. Fuller Co. of Wilmington, N.C.

SPY VANISHES IN E. GERMANY

BERLIN (AP)—Police reported Friday that a Western espionage agent—a German who once allegedly spied for Denmark—has vanished into Communist East Germany.

Police identified him as Werner Rieker, 34, and said he had worked for "one or more Western countries, including Denmark."

A spokesman for the Danish military mission immediately declared this to be false.

"We don't know this man, and we don't know anything about him," the spokesman said.

Was "Chief Agent"

The West Berlin tabloid newspaper BZ claimed Rieker was the "chief agent" of a Danish espionage organization in West Berlin.

Police said they have evidence he is in Communist East Germany, but were unable to explain why. The newspaper said "all signs" pointed to a case of drug-dealing and kidnapping.

Police said the Communists sent a messenger to Rieker's wife last Monday and asked that "certain things" in the Rieker apartment be turned over to East German secret police.

Asks Political Asylum

Immediately after delivering the request, the messenger decided against returning to East Germany and asked Western authorities for political asylum, police said. He was not identified.

Police said Rieker was employed as a Western espionage agent "some time ago." They said he has not been seen since last Thursday, when he flew to Hannover, in West Germany.

The Daytona, en route from Nova Scotia to Philadelphia, sent a radio message last Sunday that she was in distress in a storm 75 miles east of Gloucester, Mass.

Active search operations were ended by the Coast Guard Tuesday midnight.

Business Manager Of Private School Dies

Smith had long been prominent in the city's business and civic affairs. From 1940-45, he was assistant to the vice president in charge of the airplane division of the Curtiss Wright Corp. here.

Army And Navy Are Kings Of Gridiron In Big Test Today

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Navy and Army, kings for a day at least, took the spotlight in the "Big" game of the season today while Oklahoma and a half dozen or so other teams settled such "minor" matters as the national championship, conference titles and bowl berths in college football's last big scene of the year.

Cloudy skies—Lut no rain or snow—and a Navy victory were expected at Philadelphia in the 56th clash between the service academies. The bowl business played a part in this one, too, with Navy expected to get a Cotton Bowl bid with a victory.

It figured to be a match between two quarterbacks—Navy's much-heralded George Welsh and Army's much-scooped Don Hollider, who's a first classman at West Point but only a plebe at quarter, having been shifted from end.

Others Mentioned

If the Middies are beaten, or decline an invitation, the Cotton Bowl berth opposite Texas Christian will be filled by either Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Auburn or Vanderbilt—all scrapping for the Southeastern Conference crown, or a share of it, in regular season windups today.

All four also were listed as possible Sugar Bowl foes for Pitt, should any or all miss out on the Cotton Bowl berth.

So with bowl selectors and scouts from idle Pitt in the stands, Mississippi played Mississippi State, Tech met Georgia, Auburn wheeled against winless Alabama and Vandy made its bid against Tennessee.

O' Miss is the defending champ and could win again with a victory. Last season Mississippi used the crown for a Sugar Bowl pass, but lost to Navy 21-0.

Sooners Seek 29th

Oklahoma, meanwhile, meant to make cross-state rival Oklahoma A&M its 29th straight victim, aiming for a convincing victory that could bring the Sooners their second national championship in five years. The title, signified by the O'Donnell trophy, is determined by next week's final Associated Press poll.

The Sooners already have their 10th straight big 7 title in the bag along with an Orange Bowl date against Maryland. The Terps, No. 3 in the nation, have completed their season and rank with Oklahoma as the only major unbeaten-united teams left.

The Rose Bowl foes, UCLA and Michigan State, also have completed their seasons.

TCU had the Southwest Conference title to win in a regular-season closer with Southern Methodist. The Horned Frogs secured the Cotton Bowl trip last week.

Irish On Coast

Notre Dame, No. 5 but not interested in bowls, was on the Pacific Coast for another of its intercollegiate meetings with Southern California.

The Border Conference also had a championship to decide. First place Arizona State (Tempe) played Arizona while runner-up Texas Tech met Hardin-Simmons.

Other major games included Boston College-Holy Cross, Baylor-Rice, Tulane-Louisiana State, Clemson-Furman, Florida-Miami (Fla.), South Carolina-Virginia, Brigham Young-New Mexico and Colorado-Colorado A&M.

Tomorrow, it's Villanova at Dayton.

West Virginia, a bowl hopeful until dumped by Pitt and Syracuse, got the final big weekend rolling last night. The Mountaineers uncorked three second half touchdowns drives to beat North Carolina State 27-7. Hal Back Joe Marconia scored two TDs in the final quarter.

Mississippi Southern banged Florida State 21-6, giving up just 53 rushing yards.

BEARS, SKINS HEADLINE PRO SPOTS SUNDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The old-look Chicago Bears try to move into the Western Conference lead and the new-look Washington Redskins attempt to close in on the Eastern top spot tomorrow in a pair of headline games in the National Football League.

The Bears, looking more and more like the big, bad bruins of old, pit their six-game winning streak against their cross-town rivals, the Cardinals, who have lost two in a row.

Washington, meanwhile, goes for No. 4 in a row, meeting the one-look Pittsburgh Steelers, who have lost four straight.

San Francisco is at Baltimore in the only other contest.

The Bears and the Skins need a winning parlay to make their points.

If the Bears can couple an expected victory over the Cards with a Philadelphia decision over the Los Angeles Rams, the Bruins may have the Western title packed away. That would leave the Bears at 7-3 and the runner-up Rams 5-4-1 with two games remaining for both.

Can Share Lead
Washington, looking like a contender for a change, could share the Eastern lead with Cleveland—

If the New York Giants can keep their new-found offense on the move against the Browns. Going into the games, Cleveland is 7-2, Washington 6-3.

The Bears, riding high on the pass-catch combination of Eddie Brown and Harlon Hill, are 15-point favorites.

Philadelphia is a 1-point favorite over the Rams, although the Eagles are tied for the Eastern basement with the Cardinals at 3-5-1.

Washington is a slight favorite over the Steelers in the game at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland rules a 4-point favorite over the Giants, who may have the long-hobbled Eddie Price ready for the game at the Polo Grounds.

Baltimore should have the edge on the 49ers, who have lost three straight.

Detroit and Green Bay, idle, got their week's work done Thanksgiving Day.

MOUNT HOST TO UPSALA DEC. 2

Coach Jim Phelan's Mount Saint Mary's cagers will open their 26-game cage card on Friday, December 2, at Emmitsburg, against the Upsala Vikings, one of the three college teams to defeat the Mountaineers last year.

Off practice sessions Phelan's starting lineup has four lettermen and one freshman, Jerry Bohlinger, 6'6" freshman center from La Salle High School, appears to have won a starting job. All-Conference and All-Tourney letterman Eddie Bals, senior forward, and Jack Sullivan, junior forward, return from last year's starting lineup. Bill Williams, 6'6" Middletown, N. Y., sophomore, seems to have clinched the other starting berth, and senior George Donohue, 6'3", East Orange, N. J., has looked good at the other backcourt spot.

Pressing for starting berths are Burt Sheins, 5'11" Salesman grad, a sensational shooter; Billy Stanly, the senior letterman from East Orange, N. J., and Tito Nanni, 6'4" freshman forward from Roman Catholic in Philadelphia.

Babe Zaharias To Return To Hospital

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Babe Zaharias is going back to a hospital for observation and probably further treatment for cancer.

The queen of golf planned to leave Tampa by plane this afternoon to re-enter John Sealy Hospital at Galveston, Tex. She had left there in September with encouraging reports on her response to treatment for her second cancer attack.

Resting at her Tampa home, Mrs. Zaharias continued to show signs of recovery. She looked better, felt better and was able to play a few holes of golf.

About two weeks ago, however, "My hip got to hurting real bad," the Babe said.

She had X-rays taken here and her Tampa physician "didn't like the way they looked."

But if Vernon comes up with another good year, and Portfield returns to his form of a couple of seasons ago, Boston will be dangerous—right in there with Cleveland which also has a few problems. The Red Sox got a fine hitter and a real good pitcher and they didn't give up anyone who was going to be much help next year.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Two wing tanks from a Delaware Air National Guard Sabre jet plane dropped into the heart of nearby Newport, Del., yesterday. A building was damaged but no one was hurt.

One of the tanks with 60 gallons of high octane gasoline struck the roof of a building containing apartments and a first floor beauty shop. The tank burst as it hit the building and penetrated a portion of the wall. A spokesman for the 142nd fighter-bomber National Guard squadron at New Castle airport said it was "almost unbelievable" that no fire resulted from the accident. Occupants ran out of the building.

The second tank landed in a vacant lot. The area was roped off while firemen wet it down to prevent a fire.

The Air Guard spokesman said it could not be determined immediately why the tanks dropped from the jet, flown by Lt. James Scott, Bridgeville, Del.

Called To Conference
Congressional leaders of both parties are due to attend a conference at the White House Dec. 12-13 called by President Eisenhower.

The conference is to deal with the next session of Congress.

The Texas senator has been host to a number of key government and political figures at his ranch in recent months including Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952; Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okl.), and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, said in Little Rock, Ark., that "on the basis of the information the committee started out with, I don't think it's necessary to proceed any further."

The subcommittee never has said officially what it questioned Cross about, but newsmen learned his inquiry related to whether he exerted any influence in the award of a contract for bus service between railroad stations in Chicago.

Cross was reported to have admitted an "indiscretion" in talking to two railroad president about the contract but to have denied seeking favorable consideration for the successful bidder, railroad Transfer Service Inc., of Chicago.

The contract had been held for many years by the A. C. Parmelee Co. of Chicago.

The contract for shuttling passengers between stations was let by a group of railroads.

Cross, a former Republican lieutenant governor of Illinois who was appointed to the ICC in 1950 by former President Truman, tendered his resignation effective with its acceptance by President Eisenhower.

The President made it effective yesterday.

J. Monroe Johnson, a South Carolina Democrat, automatically succeeded to Cross' post as chairman of the ICC since he is the senior member of the commission in point of service.

The chairmanship is rotated on a seniority basis normally on June 30. Next in line on a regular basis is Kelso Elliott, a Republican of Spencer, Ind.

YANKEES FRET OVER BIG DEAL

NEW YORK (AP)—Are the New York Yankees worried about the trade that sent Larry Doby to the Chicago White Sox and Chico Carrasquel and Jim Busby to the Cleveland Indians?

Not in the least, said Yank General Manager George Weiss, who returned from the Orient today.

What does have the boss of the American League pennant winner worried, though, is the deal in which the Boston Red Sox acquired Bob Porterfield and Mickey Vernon from the Washington Senators for a flock of rookies.

"Right now, I must say that Boston got all the better of the deal if Vernon and Porterfield don't go in to a complete collapse. Of course, there are 'ifs.' Vernon is 38 years old and Porterfield is a little bit on the other side.

"But if Vernon comes up with another good year, and Portfield returns to his form of a couple of seasons ago, Boston will be dangerous—right in there with Cleveland which also has a few problems. The Red Sox got a fine hitter and a real good pitcher and they didn't give up anyone who was going to be much help next year."

Juniata To Play In Tangerine Bowl

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Elks Tangerine Bowl Commission has selected Juniata College of Huntingdon, Pa., to play in the Tangerine Bowl football game here Jan. 2 and plans to name the other team Monday.

Doug Kincaid, commission member, said last night negotiations had been completed with P. M. Snider for the Pennsylvania school which will be the home team.

The commission has narrowed Juniata's opponent to three schools, Kincaid said. He listed them as Wisconsin State at Stevens Point; Missouri Valley at Marshall, Mo.; and Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau.

Juniata is coached by Robert C. Hicks, former Penn State star end. The team has won eight straight victories this season and is undefeated in 23 consecutive games.

Referee Mark Conn and Judge Joe Angello scored it 7-3 and Judge Bert Grant 6-3-1, all for Lause.

The AP ringside card also had it 7-3 for the scowling South American who now has won 30 straight.

Fullmer neutralized Lause's left hook in the early stages by scuttling in and out of a shell defense with crisp counter punches. He kept moving to his left in clockwise fashion, away from the hook that has helped Lause knock out 48 men while compiling a 60-6-2 record.

Penetrates Defense
When Lause switched from left hook to right hand he began to penetrate Fullmer's defense. It was a long right to the head that first hurt Fullmer in the fourth.

Fullmer had been out front, winning two of the first three on all cards and shaking up Lause with a right to the whiskers in the third.

Fullmer won the fifth in which Lause suffered a cut over his right eye but on this scorecard he won the rest of the scrap. The 26-year-old slugger from Buenos Aires handed out the heavier punishment as they matched punches in many toe-to-toe flurries.

In the eighth round, Lause, 159½, dropped Fullmer, 156½, with a left hook. Although the knockdown counted as high as "four," Referee Conn ruled no knockdown. Later he said it was "a stumble, half off balance."

Most ringsiders thought it was a legitimate knockdown.

"I like to fight Olson," said Lause through an interpreter. "He comes in. I know I beat him. Fullmer strong boy. Takes good punch. I knock him down clean." see his eyes cross when I hit him."

Demand Reds Return 2,750 War Prisoners

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The U.N. Command today again demanded that the Communists account for 2,720 missing Korean war prisoners, including 450 Americans.

Rear Adm. Walter E. Moore, senior Allied member of the Military Armistice Commission, said the Reds were "not at all responsive" to the demand.

But they did "accept the list with reservations," Moore told reporters after a 1½-hour MAC meeting.

The Reds ignored the last U.N. demand for an accounting in August 1954.

The Communists in turn demanded the U.N. account for 98,7

Despite Old Warnings, Car Owners Switch To Frequent Oil Changes During Winter

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

The best throw with the dice of gambling with safety is to throw them away.

Favors More Oil Changes

In spite of the barrage of advice to the effect that car owners are foolish to change oil every thousand miles, this winter will find many switching back to the former plan of more frequent oil changes. It is important to be posted on several important facts.

In cold weather especially the engine of the average city-confined car seldom gets up to operating crankcase dilution. It is possible to drive at diluent by climbing long hills at road speed, but few operators take this precaution. Hence more frequent oil changes help to keep the engine free of diluent.

Where detergent oils are used organic matter picked from the valve stems and piston rings is held in suspension. It passes the oil filter cartridge. You get rid of it completely when you drain the oil.

The two thousand mile oil change may be sound enough in summer or on long trips when engines operate efficiently and when oil is being added en route, but when the car is trapped in this city merry-go-round oil is still an inexpensive form of insurance. It is always cheaper than repairs.

How fast should a motor thermostat open as the water of the cooling system heats?

This topic hasn't come in for much attention, but it is interesting to note that one of the car makers says that the cooling system will normally increase 20 degrees the thermostat starts to open and the time when its valve is wide open. This gives a rather useful method of checking a thermostat would be used anyway in testing to determine if the "stat" is starting to open at the temperature for which it is designed to function.

May Be Of Interest

Cars equipped with automatic transmissions are heavier than their comparable models with standard transmissions. The difference varies with different makes but is usually in the range between 75 and 100 pounds. Safety belts for automobile use were first offered twenty years ago. It takes more oil to completely fill a dry automatic transmission than merely to drain and refill it. Not only do some of the newer batteries require little additional water but one has cells which can be easily replaced individually.

"Whenever anything becomes troublesome about the car, or especially if it is something which has been with the car since its birth, the smart carper is to find out if the car manufacturer has made any change in later models which could be incorporated in the older cars.

"I have in mind the squealing of brakes on one popular car. This was found by the factory to be due to vibration of the self-adjusting plug on the forward shoe of each brake assembly. By installing a damper spring in each brake the noise was quickly ruled out. Many owners of older models did not know that they could have the change made in their cars."

Tracing That Thump

While it is true that often a thumping noise in the rear end of the car is due to nothing more serious than a badly fitting wheel cover, a loose universal joint or even a stone in a rear tire tread further checking if the noise persists and becomes troublesome. Quite possibly the thumping may be a warning that a rear-end gear tooth has become chipped. There can also be chipped bearing races or rollers. In one recent case a small piece of metal was found embedded in the gears. While we are on the subject it might be well to record for posterity that excessive clearance in the differential gears can cause such a thump.

The craze for color has naturally carried through to accessories, including tires. And latest is the appearance of such items as car compasses in various hues to match the interior color scheme. This has the advantage of lessening eye strain if colors are wisely chosen. Interior equipment in gleaming black or chrome are likely to glare, especially when the car is headed into the sun.

Traced To The Pump

A letter from a reader to the effect that he never before realized how a broken diaphragm in the windshield wiper booster side of a fuel pump can waste oil by allowing it to be sucked into the intake from the crankcase reminds me of a little experience of my own several years ago. I had been noticing considerable bucking of the motor whether I slowed down for a stop and during idling. My first suspicion was that the engine was afflicted with a sticky valve. In an effort to remedy this I spent an entire afternoon driving the car over a lot of steep hills with special detergent oil in the crankcase. But the trouble failed to clear up. Next day it rained. You have probably guessed that when I turned on the windshield wipers I soon discovered that the roughness of the motor was due to the fuel pump.

Air was also being drawn into the intake, leaning the mixture excessively. The tip-off was the way the wipers slowed down whenever I stepped on the gas.

Well publicized is the fact that the 21 million women drivers have fewer accidents per 100,000 drivers than do their male contemporaries at the wheel, but a woman reader reminds me that we should not make the mistake of assuming this means that women are better drivers than men from a standpoint of their accident record. Bless her. She must have been doing some figuring of her own to bring out the fact that on the average men drive more miles per year than do women. Commercial vehicles are almost entirely driven by men. She further reminds us that on trips the family car is usually driven most of the way by his honor.

Let's Get It Straight

Some very fancy ideas are afloat on the subject of power brakes, indicating that few realize that this development is fairly simple. One story that came to me today pictures some power brakes for passenger cars not being hydraulic as well. In passenger car practice the power assistance is provided by a piston within a cylinder. When this cylinder is exhausted by means of help operate the car's regular braking system. American-made passenger cars have hydraulic brakes, some with power assistance, some without. But power assistance can be used with mechanical brakes. The gone but well remembered Pierce-Arrow car had such a system.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. The engine of my car is slow starting. Is this due to a too lean mixture? J. L.

A. This is a possibility but don't overlook the fact that a too rich mixture will result in spark plug points collecting carbon. This makes for poor ignition.

Q. I notice lately that my car sort of picks up with a lurch and a definite jerk whenever it is rounding a corner and I start to accelerate. I have checked the accelerator pedal and know that the gas feed is smooth. J. R. T.

A. This is due to the automatic transmission shifting down. The shift should be less abrupt. Better have this unit checked over.

Q. How much is gas consumption increased by underinflated tires? J. L. M.

A. In discussing this subject in my Car Care book I point out that the increase normally runs from 5 to 8 per cent. It can be considerably more in individual cases. Incidentally, underinflation enough to cause this much increase in gas consumption would not even be noticed when you look at the tires

Q. Should hydrometer readings of battery cells be taken before or after adding water? K. D.

A. Do this before adding water, as the additional water temporarily weakens the solution. Always check your readings too. And keep in mind that the true measure of a battery's condition cannot be told without also taking a voltmeter reading.

Q. I am going to try to clean the contact points of the generator regulator and would like to have some advice on the subject. For instance, should the battery be disconnected during the process? N. McB.

A. The best advice I can give you on this is to leave this device alone. It is anything but simple. Yes, the battery should be disconnected during any work on the regulator. And by the way, usually any trouble with the electrical system is due to the generator itself rather than its regulator. If you want to use your energy to better advantage I suggest checking the generator's commutator which may be dirty.

Q. Recently I noticed some wax oozing from the ignition coil. What now? H. H. S.

A. This is no evidence of a

SHOOTS DOCTOR WHO HELPED HIM

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Police today held Robert Martin, a 49-year-old Ottawa carpenter, on a charge of killing Dr. Rex Hylton, 57, an orthopedic surgeon. The doctor was shot, police said, after he had ruled that Martin had recovered from an elbow injury and was fit to return to work.

breakdown of the coil. Let it pass.

Q. I am using a vacuum gauge on the dash of my car to keep track of the engine's operating condition. I notice in a test with the car standing still and the engine running that the needle floats between 12 and 18 inches of vacuum. What does this indicate? N. J. W.

A. This usually calls for a carburetor adjustment.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Truck Driver Dies, Trapped In Blaze

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A truck driver burned to death Friday when his milk truck collided with a tractor-trailer and caught fire.

William Butler, 32, of suburban Lansdowne Park, was trapped in the cab of his vehicle after the crash in southwest Philadelphia.

The truck-trailer was driven by Sylvester W. Pryor, 44, of Beaver Dam, Va. He escaped unhurt as did his helper, Gilbert Phillips, 17, also of Beaver Dam.

Police said Pryor told them he had the green traffic light and that he didn't see the milk truck until his own vehicle was halfway through the intersection.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

POSTMASTER ASKS FOR EARLY XMAS MAILING

"It's time to start those Christmas mailings!" Postmaster Lawrence E. Oyer warned today, launching his 1955 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign.

"On the calendar it's a month away but here in the Post Office it's Christmas today—and every day until December 25," he said. Extra mail carriers and office help have been secured, the delivery trucks serviced, post office inkwells filled and in fact everything is ready for the mammoth flood of Christmas mail that is expected to smash all records.

"The post office has already dispatched a tremendous quantity of gift packages headed for members of the armed forces overseas. Christmas cards for service personnel can still be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail before December 1. In the U. S. A., smart people are now mailing gifts to friends and relatives living in other states."

Appeals To Housewives
Postmaster Oyer especially calls on housewives to help in his effort to deliver every package and Christmas card before December 25. "The lady of the house," he emphasized, "is really in charge of each family's Christmas mailing program. She selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the mailing list of friends and loved-ones is up-to-date."

"Actually, success in having all Christmas gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is largely a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done now," Oyer pointed out. He urges the following steps:

Get out your Christmas card list and carefully check through it. Make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Then, pay a visit to the post office, stock up on stamps (use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards for first-class mail service) and ask any ques-

AP Bureau Chief In China Expires

HONG KONG (AP)—Veteran cor-respondent Fred Hampson, Asso-ciated Press bureau chief for China with headquarters here, died today at 63.

Weakened by years of bronchitis and asthma which stemmed from hardships as a correspondent in the South Pacific during World War II, Hampson succumbed to bronchial pneumonia.

His wife, the former Margaret Kelly whom he married in Ta-coma, Wash., in 1926, received the news last night en route from Los Angeles to Honolulu. Yesterday morning she had learned of her husband's serious illness and had left by plane with a package of medicines.

The Hampsons had recently com-pleted home leave in the United States, and Mrs. Hampson had stayed behind to care for ailing parents at Los Angeles. Hampson had returned to Hong Kong early this month.

His father, S. L. Hampson, lives in Tacoma, Wash.

tions you may have about mailing regulations.

Use Leisure Hours
"You can do this in a leisurely way if you will come to the post office before 10:30 a.m. or between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. this missing the rush hours. On your way home pick up a supply of heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and kraft paper adhesive tape. A modest investment in these neces-sities will pay big dividends in safe delivery of your cherished Christmas gifts."

"After your gift wrapping and packing is complete, plan your mail-ings so that those for the most dis-tant points go first. Try to get all long-distance mailings into the post office before December 5 and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 10. You'll be glad you did," Oyer said.

Umpire Bill Kinnamon of the Eastern League resigned a position as deputy collector of internal re-venue in Wyoming in 1953 to take up umpiring.
